園區歷史

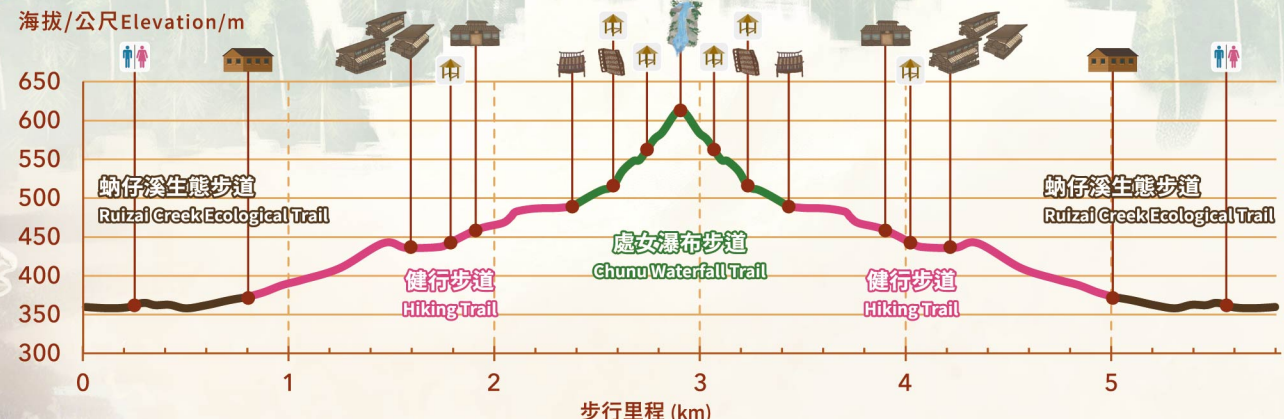

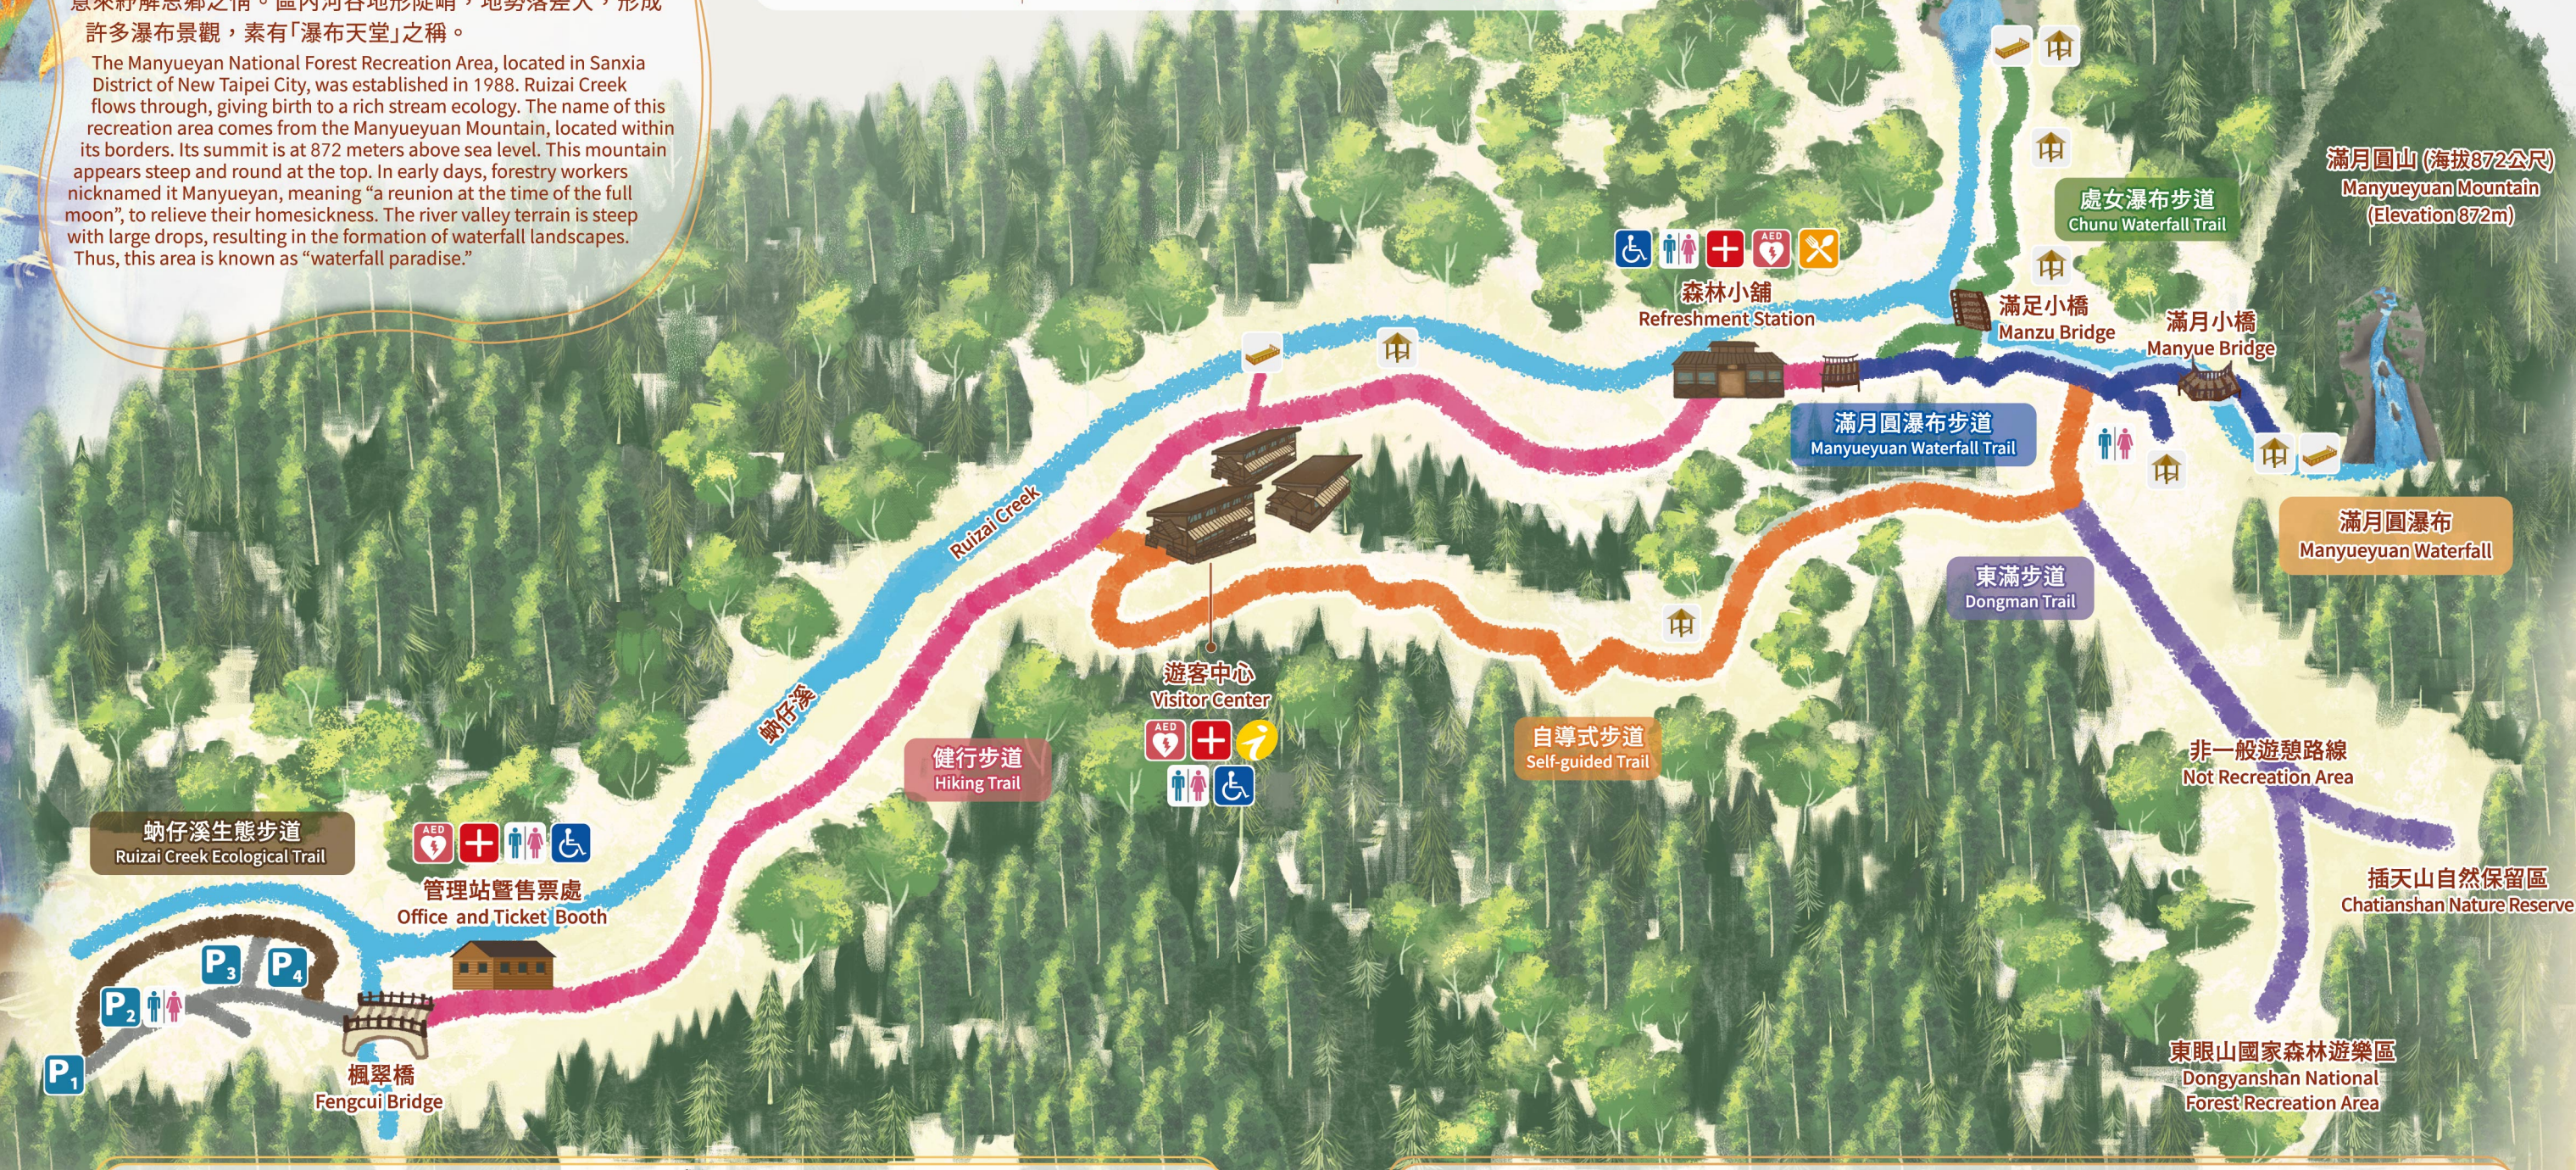

HISTORY OF MANYUEYUAN

園區成立於民國77年，位於新北市三峽區，蚋仔溪流經園區，孕育出豐富的溪流生態特色，園區名稱來自區內的「滿月圓山」，海拔872公尺，山勢陡峭，山頂渾圓，早期山中的林業人員暱稱為滿月圓，以象徵月圓人團圓的含意來紓解思鄉之情。區內河谷地形陡峭，地勢落差大，形成許多瀑布景觀，素有「瀑布天堂」之稱。

The Manyueyan National Forest Recreation Area, located in Sanxia District of New Taipei City, was established in 1988. Ruizai Creek flows through, giving birth to a rich stream ecology. The name of this recreation area comes from the Manyueyan Mountain, located within its borders. Its summit is at 872 meters above sea level. This mountain appears steep and round at the top. In early days, forestry workers nicknamed it Manyueyan, meaning "a reunion at the time of the full moon", to relieve their homesickness. The river valley terrain is steep with large drops, resulting in the formation of waterfall landscapes. Thus, this area is known as "waterfall paradise."

滿月圓生態之美

NATURE BEAUTY OF MANYUEYUAN

園區面積1,438.66公頃，海拔高度介於300-1,700公尺間，園區後倚北插天山，並有蚋仔溪貫穿，地形變化由西北向東南逐漸升高。因河川侵蝕及搬運作用旺盛，谷地落差大，超過1,000公尺以上，造就滿月圓的地形與水文景觀，可觀賞深潭、淺灘、緩流、瀑布等溪流特色。

園區動物種類豐富，溪鳥種類眾多，運氣好可見稀有的朱鵲、藍腹鷓；溪畔夜間食蟹獾出沒；梭德氏赤蛙、斯文豪氏赤蛙也多出現在溪流旁；爬行動物常見黃口攀蜥；蝴蝶是重要的昆蟲，已紀錄達百種以上。

This recreational area covers 1,438.66 hectares ranging in elevation between 300 and 1,700 meters. The North Chaianshan Mountain backs it up, with Ruizai Creek running through. The terrain changes, gradually sloping upward from northwest to southeast. Due to the strong erosive and fluvial effects of the creek, the valley has large drops of more than 1,000 meters, creating Manyueyan's unique terrain and hydrologic landscapes. Here, you can observe deep pools, riffles, slow flowing water, and waterfalls.

The Manyueyan National Forest Recreation Area is abundant in natural resources. Bird species include Maroon Oriole and Swinhoe's Pheasant. Crab-eating Mongoose, Sauter's Frog and Swinhoe's Frog are residents in streams. Reptile species include the Yellow-mouthed Japalura. More than 100 species of butterflies have been recorded.
